Sustainability Entrepreneur | Former Energy Sector Executive

Faith is the CEO of a global consulting firm focusing on ESG, Corporate Purpose and Net Zero as the new business essentials. She is at the forefront of helping firms consider that a global shift is redefining the contract between businesses and their communities from simply “being responsible” to creating real shareholder & societal value. (www.goodmansustainabilitygroup.com)

Faith’s deep Energy Sector 30+ years of operations experience including at Suncor Energy, provides her with a unique lens on the Energy Transition, sustainability challenges & opportunities. Faith has also previously led Climate & Renewable Energy policy /OECD benchmarking projects for some of Canada’s largest energy firms and she understands the complexity and gravity of delivering on credible Sustainability plans.

Faith is also the Founder of the VeriStell Institute – a global think-tank, bringing together the world’s leading voices on corporate sustainability with a view to “mainstreaming” Corporate Purpose in the developed and developing world (www.veristellinstitute.com). With a keen focus on “S” in ESG, Faith is also Founder of the award-winning Canadian registered Charity Until The Last Child working on Public-Private Partnerships in child welfare. The Charity is the winner of the RBC 2017 Social Finance award cementing her status as a trusted strategic advisor, leading social entrepreneur, and thought leader. Faith is amongst a small group of leaders globally who have co-launched a Social Impact Bond. Her Social Impact work is recognized as is her long-standing collaborations with Indigenous community leaders. www.untilthelastchild.com
